Under this Court's June 26, 2023, Order, and consistent with the directions in this Court's Handbook of Practice and Internal Procedures, Plaintiff-Appellant submits this certificate as to parties, rulings, related cases.

I. Parties and Amici

Plaintiff-Appellant:

- Citizens for Constitutional Integrity (Citizens).

Defendants-Appellees:

- The Census Bureau;
- The Department of Commerce;
- Gina Raimondo, Secretary of Commerce, in her official capacity; and
- Robert Santos, Census Bureau Director, in his official capacity (collectively, the Census Bureau).

No amici or intervenors appeared before the district court.

II. Rulings Under Review

Citizens seek review of the district court's Memorandum Opinion, ECF No. 37, and Order, ECF No. 36. The opinion and order granted the Census Bureau's motion to dismiss. They also denied as moot Citizens' renewed motion for summary judgment and the Census Bureau's motion in limine.

III. Related Cases

Citizens are not aware of any related cases.

IV. Disclosure Statement

Under Fed. R. App. P. 26.1, Citizens for Constitutional Integrity states that it has no stock. The incorporators organized it as a Montana nonprofit corporation, and the IRS recognizes it as a 501(c)(3) charitable corporation. Therefore, no corporation owns 10% or more of its stock. As Circuit Rule 26.1(b) requires, Citizens state that, among the organization's purposes, Citizens seek to improve democratic elections.
